GERMAN RIGHT FLANK TURNED

Message From French War Office
Says British Forces Broke Through Kaiser's Line.

RIGHT WING THUS IMPERILED

German Commander Withdraws All of His Troops From Lille and Neighboring Towns.

TO STRENGTHEN POSITION

Real Reason For Change of German
Plan to March Directly on Paris is Fear of Trap.

(By United Press.)
Paris, Sept. 7.—The war office in a message to General Gallieni today declared the French forces under the immediate direction of General Joffre co-operating in a general movement with Sir John French, the British commander-in-chief, have turned the German right flank. At the same time the British forces broke through the German lines left of the right wing. This movement imperiled the entire German wing and forced the German commander hurriedly to withdraw all of his troops from Lille and the neighboring towns to strengthen his position.

It is now accepted here that the real reason for the failure of the Germans to continue their march directly on Paris, was the discovery that the allied plan of battle contemplated a general engagement to the westward of Paris. The French army was massed and heavily entrenched and everything was in readiness to spring the trap which the general staff has been hinting was already baited. But the German cavalry scouts and their airmen reported the exact conditions and the Paris assault was immediately deferred.

It is believed here that the Germans will hold the positions they now occupy with their southerly lines resting north of the Grand Morin river near LaFerte Caucher. It is stated that the French and Germans have been in contact here also with the advantage resting with the French skirmishers. It is believed here the German right wing has been ordered to maintain its position pending the outcome of the fighting along the Neuse. The Germans crossed in great strength at Stenay and found themselves opposed by nearly half a million French. The line of battle here extends from the neighborhood of Reims to Verdun which is surrounded, and some reports say the German emperor himself is there directing the general campaign. It is positively known that the armies of the crown prince and of the Grand Duke of Wurtemberg have been operating here for more than a week.

Paris continues tranquil. Thousands of refugees have left the city, others are leaving. But there are many, and among them are many Americans who refuse to go. The Americans were warned by Ambassador Herriek that he cannot guarantee their protection if they remain. But they declare they "want to see the fun" and stay close to their hotels—there are only a few open—and discuss the chances of the Germans taking the city.

The military regulations are now very strict. Even in the city persons of foreign appearance are held up by soldiers and local police and their credentials examined. The fear that

CONGRESSMEN DISAPPOINTED

Sorry to Hear Announcement President Wilson Will Not go on Stump This Fall.

HE WILL USE OTHER MEANS

(By United Press.)
Washington, Sept. 7.—Congressional leaders today were disappointed at President Wilson's announced determination not to get into the fall campaign. They agreed, however on the validity of his argument that his patriotic duty calls for keeping the closest watch here while the international situation remains acute.

In his letter to Chairman Doremus of the congressional campaign committee, the president said he hoped to call to the attention of the people in other ways than campaign speech-making the Democratic record.

"Every patriotic man ought to 'stay on the job' until the crisis is passed," he declared. "My job I now know can be done best if I devote my whole thought and attention to it and think nothing but the duties of the hour."

Wilson expressed the belief that congress can adjourn when it passes its most pressing measures.

13-YEAR-OLD BOY TAKES HIS LIFE

Body of Russell Andrews is Found
Suspended to Rafters of Out house at Gwynneville Sunday.

NEPHEW OF RUSHVILLE MAN

In a fit of anger, Russell Andrews, age thirteen years, son of Alva Andrews of Gwynneville committed suicide some time late Sunday afternoon. His dead body was found suspended by a rope to the rafters of an out house yesterday evening at seven o'clock. The boy was a nephew of Sherman Andrews of this city, living at the corner of Eighth street and Gosnell avenue.

The father of the boy is unable to account for his act unless it was due to the fact that he was very angry and thought he was mistreated. It was stated that the boy was morose and sullen all day yesterday and his father was unable to learn what was the matter with him. When the boy did not come to supper and it began to grow dark, a search was made for him and his body found.

Mr. Andrews has been married a second time and the boy leaves several half-brothers and sisters, besides his father.

236 GO DOWN IN BRITISH CRUISER

Only Sixteen Members of Crew of Pathfinder Sunk by German
Mine Survive Disaster.

SECOND TO MEET SAME FATE

Important Developments in North Sea, Scene of Sinking, Are Expected Very Soon.

BULLETIN.

(By United Press.)
London, Sept. 7.—Indications reaching here today are that the sinking of the light cruiser Pathfinder was more costly in lives than any previous disaster to the British navy. It is stated that only sixteen of the crew of 254 were saved. These sixteen were wounded and four died while being transferred to the British home port where the survivors have been landed.

(By United Press.)
London, Sept. 7.—Dispatches printed here today say that the British light cruiser Pathfinder, attached to the eighth flotilla was blown up and sunk in the North Sea by a German mine. Sydney W. Finch, Paymaster, is reported to have been killed and Captain Francis Leake wounded. Night officers and petty officers are among the missing. No mention is made of other loss of life. With the Amphion this is the second British cruiser to meet disaster through the German mine. The Pathfinder was a ship of 2,940 tons. She carried 298 officers and men. She was built in 1905.

England's fleet is preparing for an earnest attempt to break the German naval power. At the admiralty it is admitted important developments are expected. Meanwhile the North Sea has again been closed to all shipping. The navigation lights on the coast still burn but a brusque announcement says that may be extinguished at any time.

The loss of the light cruiser Pathfinder following the destruction of the Wilson liner Runo by mines and the capture of a part of the North Sea fleet of fishing craft by German cruisers and destroyers has again emphasized the menace from the British standpoint of the German naval forces. Whether the British admiral plans another cutting out sortie of whether he expects the Germans to feel out his strength is unknown but there is no doubt that the admiralty looks for action.

The loss of the Pathfinder while not material when the relative strength of the two services are considered removes a first class light cruiser that has been serviceable. The Pathfinder was what is known as a patrol ship. She was placed in communication on October 13, 1904.

When the Wilson liner was sunk, all but 27 of her passengers and all of her crew were saved by travelers that went to the rescue.

The loss of the Runo might have been more serious only that four steam travelers heavily laden with fish were in the vicinity. Her bulkheads held her afloat for nearly two hours. The work of the travelers in the rescue of nearly 300 persons is declared at the admiralty here to have ranked with any similar episode in sea history.

There is no doubt that England is greatly stirred over the failure of the British fleet to prevent the promiscuous sewing of mines in every part of the channel and to protect the North Sea fishing fleet. This fleet, whose catch furnishes a material

FALLS INTO VAT BOILING WATER

Clem Thompson, a Native of Rush
County Expires From Burns in Indianapolis Sunday.

AN ACCIDENT AT REFINERY

There Being no Witnesses to Mishap
it is Presumed he Lost His Balance and Fell—Funeral Here.

Clem Thompson of Indianapolis, a native of this county and related here was scalded fatally at the plant of the Tiona Refining company in Indianapolis Saturday night and died at the Indianapolis city hospital early Sunday morning.

The body was brought here last night and taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Howard Carmichael, 916 North Main street. The funeral will be held from the house tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock with the Rev. C. M. Yocum of the Main Street Christian church officiating. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

Mr. Thompson was employed at night at the Tiona plant, corner of Madison avenue and the Belt railroad. Some time between eight and nine o'clock Saturday night he fell in a vat of boiling water and sustained the burns which caused his death a few hours later.

No one knows just how the accident happened as there were no witnesses to it. He had been in the office talking to the nightwatchman. He arose and started to his room, saying to the nightwatchman that he intended to go to bed. The nightwatchman said he had just about time enough to reach the vat of water when there was a splash and he screamed with pain. The nightwatchman rushed out and dragged him from the water.

The flesh all over Mr. Thompson's body was burned excepting one of his hands and forearms which did not go under the water, spots on his head where the water did not splash and his feet. His shoes protected them. He was taken to the city hospital at once but there was never any hope for his recovery.

The vat of water is on the level with the floor on which he walked. It is presumed that he lost his balance and fell in.

Mr. Thompson left here many years ago but was known by many Rushville and Rush county people. Besides Mrs. Carmichael, he is survived by another sister, Mrs. George McBride of near Mays. Three brothers Omer Thompson, an elevator man of Sexton; Charles Thompson, of Muncie and Will Thompson, who lives in some western state also survive him. Mr. Thompson and his wife who was formerly Miss Bess Gilson of this city, were separated. There were two children by the marriage. Mr. Thompson was forty-one years old.

Mr. Thompson is also survived by his mother, Mrs. H. C. Thompson, who lives here with her daughter, Mrs. Carmichael. His father, H. C. Thompson, who was at one time treasurer of Rush county has been dead a number of years.

MOTORCYCLE RUNS INTO THE DITCH

Mrs. James Foley and Little Son Are Dumped Out and Escape With Slight Bruises

MR. FOLEY PAINFULLY HURT

Mr. and Mrs. James Foley and son James, Jr. narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday while riding a motorcycle, with an extra passenger attachment, three miles west of the city near the Carr farm. Mr. Foley lost control of the motorcycle and it ran into the ditch. By some good fortune Mrs. Foley and her small boy who rode in the seat supported by a wheel attached to the side of the motorcycle were thrown in the road, when the machine veered to the side, and escaped with very slight bruises. Had they not been thrown out it is altogether probable they would have been seriously hurt.

Mr. Foley stayed on the machine and it crashed into the fence. The front wheel and fork were crushed and he was painfully hurt. The palm of one of his hands was badly lacerated and the ligaments in one of his arms were torn loose.

News has reached here that Mrs. Frank Mull, who underwent an operation for goiter at Mayo Brothers hospital at Rochester, Minn. one day last week is improving.

FALL TERM OF COURT OPENS

Usual Avalanche of Dismissals of Cases on Civil Docket Characterizes the First Day.

ISSUES MADE UP IN SUITS

Two Cases Brought by Mr. and Mrs.
John O. Williams Against Local Physicians Are Dismissed.

The September term of the Rush circuit court opened today with the calling of the docket and making up of the issues in several cases. A number of suits were dismissed. The jury was called for today, but the suit which was set for trial was continued.

Chief of importance among the suits dismissed were the two brought by John O. Williams of New Salem and his wife, Oeoa E. Williams against Drs. H. H. Elliott and J. T. Paxton of this city charging malpractice. Each were for five thousand dollars and were the outgrowth of alleged failure of the plaintiffs to treat Mrs. Williams properly when her hip was broken. The motions to dismiss, filed by the plaintiff in each case, were granted by Judge Megee and the costs were paid by the plaintiffs.

The court this morning granted a restraining order to Amanda Birt of Posey township against her husband Hugh S. Birt. Earlier in the day she filed suit for divorce, demanding $2,500 alimony and a restraining order.

The case of Alberta M. Walker, wife of A. P. Walker, against the Ideal Husker company, in which she makes application for a receiver for the concern was continued and set down for trial next Thursday morning.

The restraining order granted in the divorce suit of Harriet N. Naden against James E. Naden was dissolved by agreement. Mrs. Naden asks a divorce and $1,600 alimony.

The case of the Pinnell-Tompkins Lumber company against Ida Spacey on a mechanic's lien, demanding $225, was dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff.

The suit brought by the Rush County National bank against John D. Stewart and Mary E. Stewart on notes, in which a demand of $3,000 was made was dismissed and the costs paid.

The case of J. D. Case against Charles W. Miller and Maude C. Miles to foreclose a mechanic's lien

"Cereal Stories"

"I like the Cereal Stories that appear from time to time in the newspapers"—said a witty woman.

She referred, of course, to the popular breakfast food advertising.

There is more than jest in her statement, for news that bears such an intimate relation to the home and the table is of immense interest.

The Cereal Stories are only one of many interesting features of newspaper advertising.

Indeed, no part of the daily newspaper is of greater personal advantage to the readers than the advertising.

That is why newspaper advertising gives such splendid returns to those who use it.

GERMANS CIRCLE AROUND ALLIES GERMAN RIGHT FLANK TURNED

How Powerful the Line May be at Northeast of Paris There is Nothing to Indicate

AGAIN IT MAY BE A CRESCENT

It May Contain Sufficient Gaps to Insure Safe Retreat of the Allies Armies

(By United Press.)

New York, Sept. 7.—The German enveloping movement has formed its line about the allies, if the latest official statement of the French government is not intentionally misleading. How powerful the line may be there is nothing to indicate. It may be marked only by a reconnaissance expedition, but the geographical interpretation of the French statement is that the Germans have drawn a circle around the allied positions to the Northeast of Paris.

The French say the German turning movement has reached LaFere-Sous-Jouarre, which is thirty-five miles east of the Chantilly-Paris road where the Germans were last reported. The official French report then makes the curious statement that the advance has reached Rheims and descended on the west bank of the river in Argonne.

The powerful entrenched camp at Rheims has marked the eastern pivot of the French during the recent fighting, as La Fere was the western base. If the Germans have passed Rheims from the direction of LaFerte-Sous-Jouarre, that means they have moved across country from the west between Paris and the LaFere-Laon-Rheims line of fortifications. The rest of the French official report continues this interpretation. Argonne is a wooded plateau reaching from Toul to Mexieres. It marks the line of the German left wing in the operations of the past week which has run from Mexieres about half way to Toul.

The Argonne plateau is between the Aisne and Meuse rivers, and one of these rivers the German force has descended.

To descend, in this case, means to northward. That is, it means the German right wing moving behind LaFere-Laon-Rheims is effecting a juncture with the German left thus completing the enveloping movement which it has been the supreme aim of German strategy to accomplish.

The French report declares "the maneuver has not succeeded." This must mean either that the German circle or it may be only a crescent, is at present too large and therefore too thin for effective strategic use, or that it contains sufficient gaps to ensure the safe retreat of the allies. To lesson the circumference of their enveloping line must now be the immediate German objective, while the allies will have to prevent that catastrophe to themselves. The day of a decisive engagement seems to be drawing nearer.

Russia's announcement of the resumption of her march on Berlin with twenty army corps cannot be counted upon by the allies in France to decrease the strength of the immediate German offensive.

The Austrian defeat in Galicia has not the same value as a Russian victory over Germans would have. Russian troops still must prove their prowess in Prussia. The district they encountered in the Allenstein swamps presages far more difficulties for them in the north than they have overcome in the South.

There may be German spies within the city is always present with the Authorities and everyone who cannot demonstrate a "clean bill of health" is under surveillance.

There is plenty of food. The shops are open and there has been no general advance in prices. The general spect of the city is everything but what would be expected with the enemy almost pounding at the gates.

Every Parisian believes the forts will hold, and they accept the declaration of the military experts that a complete investment of the city will be impossible.

A veiled suggestion that after all Paris might not be defended to the last man has reached London. It was received with incredulity everywhere the views of the declaration of General Callieni, the military governor of Paris, that he had been placed in supreme command of the city's defenses and would hold the city indefinitely against any forces Germany might bring against it.

The report was sent by the Rouen correspondent of the Daily Chronicle and he states that he has learned that the French were considering the advisability of not defending Paris but might surrender it to the Germans to prevent the wholesale destruction of the city by a long continued bombardment and siege.

Various estimates of losses are printed by the newspapers here but none is authentic. The Daily Mail correspondent at Gisors, France, declares that a moderate estimate of the German losses to date would be 20 per cent of the total engaged as compared with a trifle more than eight per cent. for the allies. He says that he believes the Germans have lost fully 200,000 men to date. Other estimates place the figures even higher but the war office very frankly states that it has no accurate information whatever regarding the German losses.

The Daily Mail in recording a conversation between one of its staff correspondents in the field and a wounded soldier says the latter declared that the supply of German troops seemed inexhaustible. He is quoted as declaring that the more Germans that were killed the more there seemed to be in the lines.

ADVANCE ON STRONG GERMAN POSITIONS

Russian Army Today Works to Carry Places Kaiser is Rushing Reinforcements to Save.

MEET SUCCESS IN MOUNTAINS

(By United Press.)

Petrograd, Sept. 7.—The Russian army operating in east Prussia today advanced against the strongly fortified positions held by the Germans along the river Deime. The Russian advance covers a wavering line that commences at Tilsit, northeast of the strong fortress of Konigsburg and extends across Poland, through Mlaw, then west of Warsaw through the province of Radom into eastern Galicia. The Russians are besieging Konigsburg having mounted heavy siege guns to command the citadel.

The Austrian armies in Russian Poland are being pressed very hard and the Germans are rushing reinforcements to their relief. The Austrians have failed to make any decisive stand anywhere east of the San river. The German forces sent to reinforce the Austrians have fortified positions along the line of the San but so far their artillery has not come up and the Russian advance is being pushed in an attempt to carry the positions before they are made any more formidable.

The Russian expeditions to seize the passes of the Carpathian mountains but especially the Borgo Pass giving an entrance into Hungary are reported as successful. It is also stated that the entire slav population of the Austrian-Hungarian province of Bukovina have welcomed the invading Russians with open arms and expressed the hope that Russia will henceforth retain the territory.

Jackson was under seventeen when he committed the crime, but he was past the age where he could be sent to the reformatory when he was caught and the charge placed against him. Judge Megee will dispose of the case later.

MILITARISM OF PRUSSIA ISSUE

Sir Edward Grey Writes Letter to One of His Constituents to Aid Recruiting Movement.

BRIGHTER DAY FOR EUROPE

(By United Press.) London Sept. 7.—In a letter to his constituents at Berwick, designed to aid the recruiting movement, Sir Edward Grey minister of foreign affairs declares that the real issue is whether Prussian militarism shall be allowed to override all Europe.

"The progress of the war shows what a terribly immoral thing war really is" said Sir Edward. As a result of the war the independence and integrity of the smaller European states can be secured and western Europe liberated from the menace of German militarism, and the German people themselves be relieved from this terrible burden, then indeed there will be a brighter, fairer day for Europe which will compensate us for the awful sacrifice we are now called on to make.

in the fall and then be in readiness for the presidential campaign in 1916.

The Cincinnati Enquirer in its political column tells of a meeting of business men and manufacturers held one day last week in Cincinnati. There were present representatives of the manufacturing and retail interests of Cincinnati who are opposed to the present congress and who want to defeat the present Democratic congressmen from the first and second Ohio districts. It was openly asserted, according to the Enquirer, that the purpose of the organization was to elect a Republican congress. Permanent officers and headquarters, with a campaign committee, are to be selected this week. At the conclusion of the meeting Leonard S. Smith, treasurer of the American Laundry Machinery company and one of the principal promoters of the movement, stated:

"The business men, with their empty crates and boxes, and the wage earners with their empty dinner pails, are going on the street corners, in the stores and factory districts and tell the people their side of the story in the coming campaign; tell them just what the Clayton bill, the Trade Commission bill, the Underwood tariff law and a number of other so-called reform (?) measures have done to them. Manufacturing and general business in Cincinnati has been conducted by every decent method which wisdom could invent and common honesty could suggest. Why should our factories be compelled to reduce our forces or close down and throw thousands of our skilled workmen out of employment? We are going to tell the reason. It may be an innovation in politics. However, when pay rolls are attacked and legitimate business men who protest are branded as 'lobbyists' by political theorists, we believe it is time the whole truth should be told."

Never did Labor Day have such a meaning for the United States as now. Over night we have been called on to do the world's work. Our farmers must supply the food, our mines the iron and steel, our factories the clothing for the entire world. We have not yet come to realize what it means, but six months from now able bodied men need seek employment, with conditions as they are. We should again return to prosperous conditions in spite of the Underwood tariff law which has let down the bars and thrown high-priced American labor in competition with the pauper labor of Europe. Our industries should be running day and night and ships flying the American flag carrying American products to the ends of the earth.

Enthusiastic Convention at Ar-

SOME CONTESTS DEVELOP

Will M. Sparks and Pat J. Lynch,
Candidates For Judge and Congress, Make Short Talks.

The Republicans of Posey township held an enthusiastic convention in the Arlington school house Saturday night and short talks were made by Will M. Sparks, candidate for judge of the circuit court, and Pat J. Lynch of Newcastle, congressional nominee. Forty-three votes were cast in the convention and contests developed in the nominations for two places on the ticket.

Frank Lawrence was nominated for trustee after three ballots, Samuel Alden was the nominee for assessor, Earl Kennedy was picked as the candidate for road supervisor from the northeastern district, Charles Marshall from the northwestern district and Tom Jordan from the southern district. Edward Spencer, James K. Posey and Johnson Fancher were nominated as candidates for the advisory board. Alva Gardner was named for justice of the peace and Charles Addison for constable.

Both Mr. Sparks and Mr. Lynch made straightforward talks briefly discussing the issues of the campaign.

"In the fight this fall," said Mr. Sparks, "we want not only to place Rush county but Indiana in the column where she belongs so that two years from now we can elect a Republican president."

Mr. Sparks said that he had always been honest with himself as well as with everyone else and that he expected to be actuated by the same motives in the future. He said that while he was on the Rush-Shelby county bench he had always made decisions as he believed they should be made and that he would act in the same fashion if he were elected this fall.

Mr. Sparks declared that false statements had been made concerning him during this campaign to elevate some other persons. He said that he had been accused of saying in Indianapolis before a committee of the 1913 session of the legislature that he was thankful he was not a Progressive. Without qualification, Mr. Sparks stated, this was an absolute falsehood.

Judge Sparks was selected to represent the Rushville attorneys in their plea for a separate judicial circuit in this county. He was presenting the argument before the committee and in so doing stated that he had no personal motives for favoring the change because he was not a candidate for any office. During his talk he stated he was neither a Democrat or Progressive. A member of the legislature from Wayne county, a Progressive, was on the committee and he promptly said jokingly that Judge Sparks was in a bad fix. The incident ended there.

"Of course I made no such statement," continued Judge Sparks, "Even though I had had the disposition, which I did not it would have been foolish for me to have given utterance to such a thought because I wanted the vote of that Wayne county Progressive for our bill as I did the vote of every other member of the committee."

"I have no quarrel with any man, be he Progressive, Democrat or Republican. I concede to every man the right to believe as he wishes."

Judge Sparks in introducing Pat Lynch, paid him high compliment. He recalled that Mr. Lynch was a laboring man himself until 1893, wheeling a wheel barrow for a dollar and a quarter a day and that he had earned what he has by his own thrift, industry and business judgement. He is just a plain business man said Judge Sparks.

"The president says he needs a hundred million dollars a year," said Mr. Lynch, laughing into the subject at once, "but what has the war on the other side of the Atlantic to do with free trade. We are a hundred million people within ourselves. In 1912 we grew the greatest corn and wheat crop we ever raised. We exported two per cent of it and used the other ninety-eight per cent. We grow all the things we need. Why should we have to pay a war tax when we are not at war? The president knows he is in a hole and that he has led this country on the rocks. We fought the Spanish-American war and there never was a ripple. Now there is a war for which we are not responsible and we are asked to help bear the burden."

Mr. Lynch recalled all of the progressive legislation which had been enacted in the history of the most progressive nation in the world had been put on the statute books by the Republican party. He showed how the free trade tariff bill had thrown down the tariff duties and the skilled labor of America must compete with the pauper labor of Europe. He told of a visit he made to Birmingham, England three years where he investigated the conditions among the laboring men in this great trade center. He said the average so-called skilled laborer received $5.50 and he bragged that he had meat once a week.

Mr. Lynch said he could not be convinced Beveridge's tariff commission plan was an issue. He said it was merely a means to befog the real issues and make the people believe the Progressive party had an issue. He said only congress has the right to levy any excise or tax and that a tariff commission could do nothing other than investigate and report to congress. Then congress, he said, with all of its sectional influences, would go ahead and make a tariff bill as it saw fit. He called attention that a tariff commission was appointed during Taft's administration, that the members were appointed irrespective of political beliefs and made a thorough inquiry. The commission came back to the Democratic congress with its data and the congress did not even so much as consider it.

Frank Lawrence was nominated for trustee on the third ballot. The first vote resulted: Arthur C. Lee, 18; Lawrence, 13 and Oral Adams, 10. The second ballot was Lee, 18; Lawrence, 16 and Adams 4. Adams withdrew and Lawrence received 24 votes on the last ballot, making him the nominee. In the race for supervisor of the northeastern district, Morton Spencer and Earl Kennedy were both placed in nomination. Kennedy received 23 votes and Spencer 20.

Several Republicans who were Progressives in 1912 were at the convention Saturday night. The crowd was very much impressed with the congressional nominee's speech. He spoke very frankly, and was often applauded. Republican party workers in Posey township report that conditions there are excellent.

You know how that was? He was leading the calves and when he came to a gate that was hard to open he tied a calf to each boot strap and when he opened the gate the calves ran away with the old man and dragged him at a fast pace over the rough ground. His wife finally reached his side and released him and upbraided him for a fool and asked him if he didn't know better than to tie calves to his boots. "Yes, Ann," he replied, "I didn't get more than four rods until I discovered my mistake." That is the way with some people buying buggies. They find out their mistake too late to do them any good and it is their own fault, because it costs you nothing to look at our buggies and all we want is a chance to show you. We know you will buy them if you look them over. Will you do it? Our advice is do it now.

TAKES HITS IN PINCHES TO WIN

And the Arcadians Could Not Come Across Thus Giving Hoosiers a 4 to 2 Win.

POOR BASE RUNNING COSTLY

Ninth Inning Rally Cut Short When Rushville Looked Good to Tie up—Same Teams Today.

(By Doc Kiner.)

Newcastle, Ind., Sept. 7.—Those invading Arcadians made an unsuccessful attack on Fort Maxwell yesterday afternoon and were handed the small end of a 4 to 2 score. The Hoosiers held their own against the Arcadians this time and the set back was quite a jolt to the few faithful making the trip with the team.

The defeat of the Rushville team is easily accounted for although the team played as good ball as Newcastle. Two things were largely responsible for the defeat—poor base running and inability to hit Hancock in the pinches. In only one of the nine innings did Rushville fail to get a man on base and that was the second. Chance after chance to score was lost because the necessary hit was not there.

The fans kicked on the umpiring, which was only natural. In the seventh Heller was called out at third because the coacher touched him and this brought a long and loud protest from the Rushville fans and teams. The bases were full at the time and Heller had taken third on the hit and run play. The field umpire called him safe. He slide to the bag and was safe had not Fox touched him. It was fair enough but the fans could not see it. In the eighth it looked as though Snyder presented Newcastle with a run when he called Westover safe at the plate. Westover, from all indications did not touch the plate by six inches. The decisions however would have made little difference if Rushville could have hit the ball when the hits were needed.

Rushville was the first to score working a runner around in the first frame. Striker led off with a single to left field. Cordes was out, Glancy to Hancock. Badel flew to Gissler. Sandman singled and Striker counted. Newcastle counted in the second. This run was presented to them when Goodfellow let the ball got away from him. Stiers was safe on Long's error and took second on Westover's sacrifice. Glancy grounded to Sandman and Stiers took third on the play. Camfield was walked and Stiers scored on a passed ball. Hancock doubled to right and Camfield was caught at the plate, Badel to Sandman to Goodfellow.

The Hoosiers took the lead in the second. Ross led off with a double and was caught at third when Wilson laid one down in front of the plate, Goodfellow to Long. Wilson stole second. Smith struck out. Gissler singled scoring Wilson. Stiers grounded to Sandman. Hancock settled down and pitched good ball holding the Arcadians runless until the ninth.

In the fifth the Arcadians had the best chance to break up the game. Heller flew to Ross. Striker drew a walk and took second when Cordes singled to center. Both advanced when Badel was safe on an infield hit. Striker pulled the bone when he thought there were two down. Sandman hit a short fly to third and Striker believing there were two down was doubled off third. Newcastle added two more in the eighth. Gissler led off with a double and took third on Stiers out. The squeeze play was worked successfully by

BOSTON FORGES INTO THE LEAD

With One Down in Ninth and Score Against Them, Braves Pound Out Victory Over Giants.

MATHEWSON ON MOUND, TOO

(By United Press.)
Fenway Park, Boston, Sept. 7.—With one down in the last half of the ninth and the score 4 to 3 against them in the morning game of a double bill today, the Boston Braves hammered Mathewson for two singles and a double, winning five to four.

The Braves victory shot them one full game ahead of the Giants and gave them the lead of the National League.

It was little Josh Devore, ex-Giant, who paved the way for the fall of his former teammates. Gowdy was an easy out for Fletcher at First. Devore, batting for Rudolph, got an infield hit. Moran doubled into the crowd in right field, Devore taking third. Evans then earned his weekly portion of his $35,000 by singling to left, scoring Devore and Moran.

Thirty-eight thousand wild-eyed Boston fans saw the game. Many of them walked only as far as the gate, paid another admission and returned for the matinee game.

Lurline Council, 296 will have a called meeting Monday evening to transact all business that comes before the council brand.

LABOR DAY IS QUIET HERE

Few Places of Business Close But Day is Not Observed.

Labor Day did not change the usual trend of things in Rushville today. There was no noticeable difference between this and any other day except that the banks, barber shops and blacksmith shops were closed all day and the postoffice from ten o'clock on. The city mail carriers made one delivery, but the rural carriers made none. The Knights of Columbus held their annual Labor Day picnic at the fair grounds. The affair was well attended.

LABOR HOSTS PARADE

(By United Press.)

Denver, Colo., Sept. 7.—Ten thousand representatives of Organized Labor marched today in the annual Labor parade here. Many of the marchers were in uniforms. The Trades and Labor Assembly has offered a number of prizes to the organizations making the best showing.

MURRAY CELEBRATES

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 7.—"Billy" Murray, (not "Bill" Murray) was the recipient today of congratulations. "Billy" is the Massachusetts Representative—from Boston. He was 33 years of age today. He used to be the "baby" member of the House and was recently appointed postmaster of Boston. "Bill" Murray is known better as "Alfalfa Bill," the picturesque Oklahoma congressman.

UNCLE SAM CELEBRATES

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 7.—Uncle Sam today joined the hosts of labor in observing Labor Day. From the president down all officialdom participated in the holiday. Both houses of Congress were in adjournment and all departments closed. ### Belgium Pays Price For Respect of Nations

(By United Press.)

Antwerp, Sept. 7. Belgium has won the respect of the nations of the world, but has paid the price, not only in the slaughter of thousands of her best men, but in the complete wrecking of the nation in all industrial pursuits.

Refugees pouring into Antwerp bring terrible stories of the devastation of the land. From end to end of the little kingdom is nothing but misery suffering and starvation. Her lands are laid waste, mines are idle, towns have been wrecked and burned and industry is at a standstill. In the mining and other industries no wages have been paid since July 31. Public buildings have been turned over as quarters for refugees. At Ostend bath houses are being used to shelter thousands pouring into the resort.

Wives of men at the front, aged fathers and mothers and little children stream in constant procession to the cities of refuge. Among the thousands not a single able-bodied man of fighting age may be found, unless in uniform. Every able-bodied man is either at the front fighting or has already fallen wounded or given his life in Belgium's gallant defense.

COUNTY COUNCIL MEETS TOMORROW

Appropriations to Pay Expenses of County For 1915 Will be Made Tuesday and Wednesday.

COMMISSIONERS MEET TODAY

The county council will hold its annual session, beginning tomorrow, to make the appropriations to pay the expenses of the county for the year 1915. The meeting day is fixed by law, and according to the statutes two days' session is necessary because the council can not appropriate a very small sum in less than two days.

The commissioners began their regular monthly meeting today. The morning was consumed in allowing claims, but at noon all of this class of business had not been attended to. Other routine business was taken up this afternoon. It was expected, also, that some time today the board would formally appoint A. N. Newbold superintendent of the county poor asylum. He took charge today when John W. Humes left for his new home on a farm near Springhill. It has been known for some time that Mr. Newbold was the choice of the board. The commissioners will be in session again tomorrow with the council.

DEMANDS DIVORCE AND $2,500 ALIMONY

Mrs. Amanda Birt of Posey Township Brings Suit Against Hugh Birt Today

WANTS RESTRAINING ORDER

Mrs. Amanda Birt filed suit for divorce this morning against Hugh Birt, demanding alimony in the sum of $2,500. They are well known residents of Posey township, living near Arlington. In the complaint Mrs. Birt alleges cruel and inhuman treatment. She avers that he is of a very mean and sullen disposition and frequently cursed her without cause on her part. They were married December 31 1908 and separated September 3, 1914, according to the complaint.

Mrs. Birt states that his three children by a former marriage are unclean about the house and that the defendant always took their part when she attempted to correct them. Mrs. Birt alleges that he is worth $5,000 and demands $2,500 as her part. A restraining order is asked to prevent him from disposing of any of the property. John H. Kiplinger represents Mrs. Birt.

WILL NOT AFFECT THE EXPOSITION

Despite War Foreign Nations Will be Well Represented at Panama-Pacific Exhibit

COMMISSIONER MOORE BACK

(By United Press.)

New York, Sept. 7.—Despite the European war, foreign nations will be well represented at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco according to Thomas M. Moore, commissioner general in charge of the foreign participation, who has just returned from London.

Firms who have been in competition with German manufacturers in the past are extremely anxious to exhibit at San Francisco, Moore declared, and displays of this nature may be greater than at first expected. This is particularly true of pottery, chemicals and dye industries. English exhibitors are ready to stand by their obligations made before the war. Huntley and Palmer, the biscuit firm had planned to spend $25,000 on an exhibit. Their business has lately been limited to supplies for the army, but Moore was informed the concern would certainly have an exhibit at the exposition.

EFFICIENCY IN THE SETTLEMENT OF AN ESTATE

It is of great moment to every man, when providing for the disposition of his property, that he appoint the most efficient Executor.

In recent years the custom of appointing as Executor an individual, such as a friend or relative, has been rapidly disappearing. Owing to the great change in business and financial methods, requiring the Executor to have a wide knowledge of these affairs, the Trust Company is the ideal Executor or Trustee, since it is not subject to the vicissitudes of individual life or individual judgment.
